For Immediate Release – On Friday, June 11, 2010 Damuth Trane held their first annual Hope For The Warriors car wash. The event raised $735.00, last year the event raised $1400.00. A carwash was $5.00 and a hot dog was another $5.00. All Damuth associates pitched in for this event, including the President and General Manager Clint Damuth, “It’s a wonderful cause and we’re happy to do it.”

The event only lasted for four hours- it was hot and sticky – but definitely worth it. The mission of The Hope For The Warriors™ organization is to enhance the quality of life for US Service Members and their families nationwide who have been adversely affected by injuries or death in the line of duty. The organization offers support to soldiers and their families by:

- providing housing for the wounded and their family members during long stays in the hospital
- offering support groups for both the recovering soldier and their family members
- granting a wish such as riding a bike or going hunting

The organization was established in 2006 by Robin Kelleher and Shannon Maxwell. Both are wives of US Marines. Shannon’s husband, LtCol Tim Maxwell, was severely wounded in Iraq after shrapnel from a mortar attack left him with a traumatic brain injury. To learn more about the organization log on to their website at www.hopeforthewarriors.org.

Overall the event was a great team building success and raised awareness for this wonderful charity. Clint Damuth said it best, “we got wet, we got dirty, we had some fun and we raised some money. What a great day.”
